

AFROECONOMY TOKEN

($AFC)

WHITEPAPER

INTRODUCTION

Afroconomy (One Africa). An Africa driven by the power of technology, ideas, talent and innovation. An Africa where there are jobs for the youth.

An Africa where the youth can wake up, open their laptops, and earn a legitimate income by working digitally. An Africa connected to the west. An Africa where those trapped in countries where people stuck abroad can come back home, enjoy the best of Africa (good weather, etc.), and still make a living. A true African dream.

Afroconomy is a belief or ideology, an ideology led and entirely driven by an African digital ecosystem.

Afroconomy is for anyone who wants to leverage the numbers, strength, and resilience of Africans.

Africa, the most enriched continent globally, has a lot of indigenous and hidden talents and resources never seen by humanity. Afroconomy is here to expose such rarity to the world and will be aided by the decentralization of wealth ($AFC).

($AFC) is the native token for the Afroconomy platform; it will serve as a means of payment on the platform and can also be earned via rewards. The token will serve as means of payment settlement to various talents whilst onboarding Africa into web3.

INTRODUCTION

OURVISION

Cross-border payments around Africa have always been very stressful and challenging to achieve with the substantial bureaucratic difference in governance from country to country. The goal of introducing AFC is to provide the most convenient, secure, one-true payment source across the continent without intermediaries. This payment will not be limited to use on the Afroconomy platform but equally supported by varieties of modern-day banking technologies to make the distribution and settlement (small or large) between participants or groups of individuals interacting with the coin a breeze while maintaining true decentralization.

Our vision is to make it possible for the highly skilled and faceless man/woman seeking to export their talent to the global market and earn seamlessly anywhere they are in Africa

OURVISION

OUR MISSION

Africa has more than a lot to offer, from its wildlife and nature to great weather to its vast resources. We are on a mission to enable Africans to live their dreams in Africa, work and make a living without travelling to foreign lands, creating a self-sustaining autonomous digital economy.

THE PROBLEM

As previously highlighted, cross-border payments around African countries is a far-cry away from the standard in the west. It is challenging to run a successful cross-border business, and payment is central to this. Traditional banks have tried to set up infrastructure in thriving economic African countries, but the coverage is nowhere near enough.

Another fundamental problem has always been currency conversion and the infamous blackmarket Bureau De Change (BDC) operators that thrive in the African system. Conversion from one African country's currency to another usually is based on how well an individual can negotiate and drive a good bargain to get a reasonable rate for ones hard earned money.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Africa is a world powerhouse, or at least it will be soon. It has some of the best statistics for future growth (very high concentration of internet-savvy youth with fewer jobs to go around and a bad economy and low global market reach open to them). The Afroconomy platform creates a solution by providing a trusted digitalized marketplace for talents to connect and earn instantaneously.

THE OPPORTUNITY

TOKEN FUNCTIONALITY

Afroconomy Coin is the engine that drives the platform as they unlock full utility on the website. (Potential for any of our users to receive financial value anytime, anywhere in seconds).

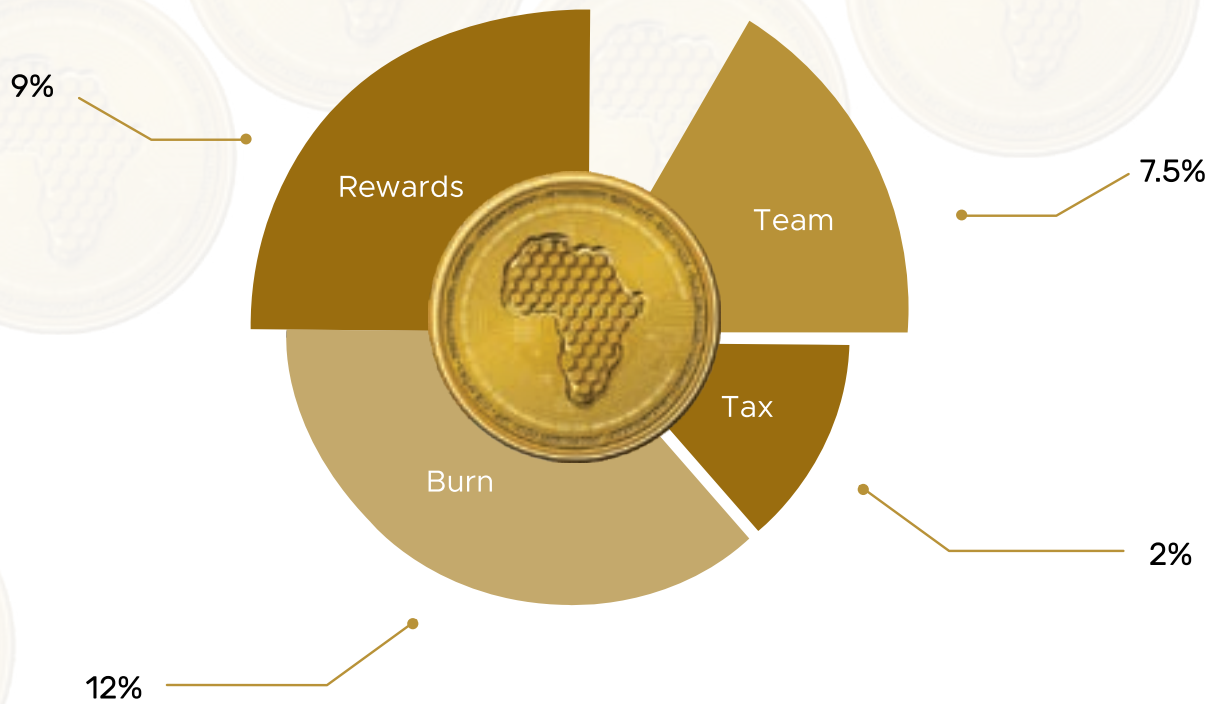

The utility of Afroconomy token has a wide range of services, including purchasing products, advertising, and subscriptions. Tokens will play a crucial role in rewarding community members for their participation in promoting and growing the ecosystem.
